I had a facebook account and have had a facebook account during the "Class Period." That is to say between May 24, 2007, and December 22, 2022 and even now.

I have never objected to a class action lawsuit before, and am not sure if this objection applies only to me or to a specific subset of the class, or to the entire class.

I want to also state, I do not have counsel accept for those whom have already been appointed to me, Mr. Derek W. Loeser and Ms. Lesley E. Weaver.

My objection is to the amount being awarded. I feel it's far too low based on Facebook's previous history of violations. The fact that there is yet another case against them for something they continue to do, shows they have no intention of changing. They do not have any respect for the courts, or for the laws of this nation. And even worse they have no respect for the privacy or rights of their customers/users.

I am not a lawyer and have not sought legal counsel please forgive any lack of proper written structure, legal terms, etc. Thank you for taking the time to address my concerns.

In re: Facebook, Inc. Consumer Privacy User Profile Litigation, Case No. 3:18-md-02843-VC (N.D.Cal)

Full name: Daniella Isabelle Nunnemaker

Address: [REDACTED]

Phone Number: [REDACTED]

Email: [REDACTED]

Facebook URL: [REDACTED] associated email [REDACTED]

Not represented by counsel.

I was a Facebook user between Nov 20, 2009 and Dec. 22, 2022, on a daily basis for personal use.

My objection to the agreement applies to the entire class.

Neither I or any associated counsel have objected to a class action settlement previously.

My grounds for objecting to the settlement are laid out in the four points below:

1) The settlement is not an equitable amount compared to the amount of Americans 355+ million Americans this settlement may affect.

725M minus all costs spread around the population of America that may be affected (which is around 300M+) in my view does not give a commensurate amount per individual potentially affected.

2) The settlement amount in the agreement does not affect the defendant in any kind of meaningful way, this is like asking a millionaire to pay a 1,000 dollar parking fine, to the common man this is ludicrous, but to the millionaire this is nothing. The amount of the settlement in the agreement does not punish the defendant for their mis-use of personal information or even dissuade them from recommitting the offense.

The Defendant gained net income of 68+ Billion just in 2020 and 2021 alone, not accounting for the other 14 years of net profit and the pay out is only a fraction of that.

These figures are according to the defendant's own Fourth Quarter and Full year results for 2021

<https://investor.fb.com/investor-news/press-release-details/2022/Meta-Reports-Fourth-Quarter-and-Full-Year-2021-Results/default.aspx>

3) In my estimation the settlement will not equal the amount made by the Defendant over the 15 year period from the sales gathered per person.

Even taking into the account the settlement of 725M, the Defendant will undoubtedly still have made a profit on the sale of information without explicit permission or knowledge, which is not in itself a punishment. I would request that the court investigate the profit made by the Defendant from this mis-use of information and the settlement amount should be no less than equal to this sum.

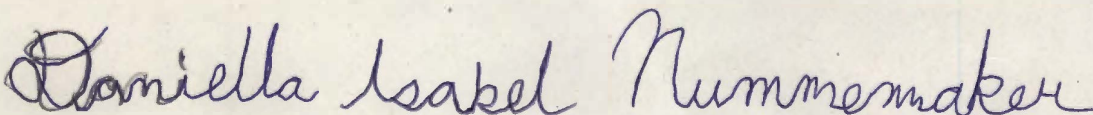

4) In my opinion there is a national security risk posed with giant corporations beholden to themselves by sharing this information to 3rd parties.

This information was sent to undisclosed, insufficiently monitored to third parties by the Defendant and, as such, could easily have been given to foreign nationals.

Due to the Defendants' failure to enforce third-party access, the information could have been shared with foreign nationals and nothing could be done to stop them reusing it.

Court appearance statement: I do not intend on appearing

Re: In re: Facebook, Inc. Consumer Privacy User Profile Litigation
Case No. 3:18-md-02843-VC (N.D. Cal.)

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to voice my opposition to the settlement agreement reached in the above-captioned matter.

The basic information requested on facebookuserprivacysettlement.com is as follows:

1. Please see my name and contact information above.
2. My Facebook account URL is [REDACTED] and the associated email is [REDACTED]
3. I am not represented by counsel.
4. I was a Facebook user during the Class Period. I first created my account during 2007 and continue to use Facebook through present.
5. I have never objected to a class action settlement.
6. I have not sold or otherwise transferred the right to recovery in this action to another person or entity.
7. I do not intend to appear at the Final Approval Hearing.

According to Meta's Q1 2023 results report, the company earned over $5.7 billion in net income in that quarter alone. The settlement fund to be established per the terms of the settlement agreement is less than 13% of what Meta earned in a mere three months. The amount of money that Meta/Facebook has made during the Class Period is exponentially larger than this, meaning the amount that Meta will pay pursuant to the terms of the agreement is not even a drop in their proverbial bucket—it is a drop in an ocean.

Plaintiffs state in their July 11, 2023 filing that they anticipate that each Class Member will receive compensation of approximately $35. While it is difficult to put a price on what appropriate recompense would be for Facebook's and Cambridge Analytica's violation of a Facebook users' privacy, that is not really what is at issue here. The most important factor to be considered when determining the amount defendants must pay is: is this dollar amount an effective deterrent to future illegal actions on the part of defendants? Accordingly, will this judgment further serve as a deterrent against similar behavior by other companies? Based on the above publicly-available financial information, I firmly believe that it is not, and therefore will not. Seven hundred twenty-five million dollars, for a company the size of Meta, is merely the cost of doing business.

The fact that the settlement is for an apparently historic amount, according to Reuters and other news outlets, is irrelevant. With all due respect, the Court must set a precedent that is actually meaningful, and shows that Meta's actions, as well as corporate malfeasance as a whole, will not be tolerated. This is an ongoing problem with court settlements and government-levied fines for wrongdoing by large companies, and this suit is as good a place to begin to address the issue as any. The present practice of giving companies a financial slap on the wrist for illegal activity or other harms committed communicates that not only are there are no real consequences for their actions, but that the legislature and judicial system essentially give tacit approval for these actions to continue.

At the very minimum—even if the Court finds the settlement fund amount to be reasonable—court costs and attorneys' fees should absolutely not be paid therefrom. The settlement amount is already comically low. Further reducing what minimal amount of restitution Facebook users will receive and effectively reducing Meta's financial liability by allowing Meta to pay these expenses using fund money is unacceptable.

I appreciate that you have spent the time to read this and others' objections to the settlement agreement, especially in light of the time-consuming nature of complex litigation such as this. As such, it is understandable that the Court's first preference would be to allow the parties to settle in the interest of administrative efficiency. In spite of this, I urge the Court to reject, or at least modify, the settlement agreement. Given the high-profile and far-reaching nature of this case, it is extremely important to send a message of deterrence to Meta and other companies in deciding what damages should be awarded. In its current form, the settlement agreement fails to convey that this message.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions or need any additional information. Thank you again, and enjoy your day.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Erica Lehner', with a stylized flourish at the end.

In re: Facebook, Inc. Consumer Privacy User Profile Litigation, Case No. 3:18-md-02843-VC (N.D. Cal.),

I object to the Facebook User Privacy Settlement case. My objection should not be interpreted as accusing the Defendant of any wrongdoing.

My Facebook account URL is not reasonably available, despite attempts having been made. I believe the email address associated with my Facebook account is or was [REDACTED]. Please note that I refuse to interact with Facebook to the extent need to retrieve or verify the URL or account, and I do not maintain an account to the present day.

I was a Facebook user during the Class Period and the applicable dates of such use.

I believe my objection applies only to a specific subset of the class. The class affected are Facebook users who, being citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside, had an active cellular network telephone service contract inclusive of their own legal name (subject to the jurisdiction thereof) during the Class Period.

I have not previously objected to any class action settlement, nevertheless I have carefully considered one opportunity to do so in the past, so mentioned to illustrate how seriously I weigh these matters in my affairs.

I, the objector, have not sold or otherwise transferred my right to recovery in this Action to another person or entity.

I specifically ground my objection in my belief that Facebook's conduct was not a violation under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200 et seq. (West 2018), citing [REDACTED] Police Case Number [REDACTED] as evidence. The case consists of a [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]. I was an active Facebook user at the time, and reported the injustice promptly to local law enforcement. My personal cell phone was stolen, linked to a [REDACTED] service plan [REDACTED] taken out, in good faith, under my own legal name. My cell phone was directly linked to my

Facebook user account activities, and to the account activities of implicated third-party app developers, such as music streaming services I recall using at the time of the incident (such as my [REDACTED] account, [REDACTED]).

The fact the incident occurred in a [REDACTED], I assert, is relevant. Humbly, I admit the proximate cause of the [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]. I relied on a sense of "Privacy," like designating a Facebook post "Private." I was simply mistaken. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]. No other souls were within my perception.

To my knowledge, no professional follow-up has been conducted; [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]. The sole item of personal business I had at the time with the police was not mentioned, as the case number was not verified between parties. I found it to be a very strange interaction.

I support my "humble" assertion and "strange interaction" in the knowledge that since the both incidents, I have discovered [REDACTED] evidence of [REDACTED]
[REDACTED], calling into doubt my judgement and perception skills I relied on at the time.

The Plaintiffs have not shown any "allegedly deceptive or misleading statement" made by Defendants "was an immediate cause" of their or my injury(s). (Kwikset Corp. v. Superior Court (2011) 51 Cal.4th 326-327.), both elements being required for Plaintiff to have standing. If it pleases the court, if we imagine my phone was a "physical" Facebook post and combine it with the realization that any third party observer would have proximate knowledge of my "phone" and subsequent unawareness of my surroundings with my head down searching inside my car for my DVD player, the Causes of Action and Prayer for Relief are simply mistaken in their assertion that their complaint fulfills both the aforementioned requirements. I therefore, request that Your Honor reject the settlement.

I intend to appear, pro se, at the Final Approval Hearing, as necessary and prudent.

Sincerely yours,

1225 CH 0001
